SCHLEY

COURT WILL ADJOURN ON DAY OF WILSON FUNERAL

ADMIRAL COTTON TESTIFIES AGAINST SCHLEY.

SAYS SEA WAS NOT SO ROUGH

The Day Schley Went to Key West, But That He (Cotton) Could Have Coaled His Ship—Discussion of Admiral Schley's Message, Which was Distorted.

Washington, Sept. 25.—With the exception of adjournment on the day of the funeral of Judge Wilson there will be no break in the Schley trial. Judge Advocate Lemley will direct his attack on Schley along the line that Schley must have known that the Spanish fleet was in Santiago harbor when he started for Key West to coal. He expects to prove this by testimony of Captain Gigsbee and Phot Nunez.

Washington, Sept. 25.—At the trial today Admiral Schley appeared in mourning for Judge Wilson. To show that the log of the Texas did not contain all the happenings on the day of the naval battle of Santiago, A. B. Claxton, chief machinist, testified to having received orders for full steam astern during the early part of the engagement. This was to save the Texas from being rammed by the Brooklyn. The log said nothing about it.

Admiral Cotton who delivered the dispatches to Schley before the Santiago engagement, was put on the stand. He told of the delivery of a dispatch to Schley which contained the opinion of the Navy department that the Spanish fleet was in Santiago harbor. It was after the receipt of this dispatch that Schley started for Key West to coal.

Cotton stated that the sea was not so rough but that he could have coaled his ship, the Harvard, on the day that Schley said it was too rough to coal at sea. Then came a discussion of Schley's message in the original. Schley said: "It is to be regretted that the department's orders cannot be obeyed, much as we have striven to that end." In the printed records that matter appeared as follows: "Much to be regretted, cannot obey orders of department. Have striven earnestly." Judge Reynor said that difference was of great importance and that the order did great injustice to Schley. Mr. Hanna said the changes occurred in translating the message from the code and that they were of no importance.

In the course of the testimony Cotton said that though he had offered a man to communicate with the insurgents on shore, Schley had not accepted him. He further said that to his knowledge Schley made no effort to locate Cervara's fleet, nor to obey the orders of the Navy department delivered to Schley by Cotton.

New York, Sept. 25.—The right of restaurant keepers to refuse service to women who may come into public dining places unaccompanied by men is to be tested by a suit brought against the Shanley company, and in which the plaintiff demands $2,000 damages. It is the invariable rule at Shanley's as well as other well known restaurants in the city to refuse to serve unescorted women after 9 o'clock in the evening.

CZOLGOSZ

Father, Brother and Sister Visit the Assassin—Want Their Name Changed.

Chicago, Sept. 25.—It is practically safe to stay at this time that five weeks from next Monday, or October 28, Leon Czolgosz, murderer of President McKinley, will have been shocked to death in the electric chair at Auburn prison. It was deemed possible, that as a matter of form, his attorneys might appeal the case, but there will be no appeal and as soon after the sentence as possible Czolgosz will be taken to Auburn penitentiary there to await execution.

Czolgosz' father, his brother Waldeck and a sister were permitted to visit him in jail today. Thirty minutes were spent with the prisoner who showed no emotion whatever. The family say as soon as possible they will get the courts to change their name and then remove to some obscure place where they will be entirely unknown.

DETAILS

OF THE CAPTURE OF MISS STONE IN TURKEY.

PARTY ROBBED OF MONEY AND WATCHES.

STOPPED IN A NARROW VALLEY.

And as Soon as Possible All Were Compelled to Wade a River and Ascend a Mountain—Twenty Brigands Counted in the Party—They Knew Miss Stone and Were After Her.

Boston, Sept. 25.—The American Board of Foreign Missions today received a letter dated Samokove, European Turkey, Sept. 7th, giving full details of the capture by brigands of Miss Ellen M. Stone. The writer states:

"We were greatly pained yesterday at noon to learn from a telegram from Dr. House that Miss Stone and Mrs. Tsilka, the wife of the Albanian preacher, were captured and carried off by a band of brigands on September 3, while on their way, with friends from Bansko to Djumas. I went to the government here and informed them, so they might be on the lookout for these outlaws should they at tempt to bring their captives into Bulgaria.

Just before sunset two of our students from Bansko arrived. They were with Miss Stone when the brigands captured the party. From their accounts by the aid of questions, I get the following:

The whole party about 15 to 18 were suddenly stopped in a narrow valley and as soon as possible all were compelled to wade a river and ascend the wooded mountain side as fast as they could make them for about an hour. Not all could be seen but twenty were counted at one time as I understand, and it was the opinion that there must have been forty of them, dressed like Turks and talking bad Turkish. They spoke occasionally good Bulgarian and were glad to find among the provisions carried by the party several cakes of bacon and ham.

"They knew Miss Stone, showing that they were mainly after her. She and Mrs. Tsilka were taken on further and seen no more. The remainder were relieved of money, watches, etc., and compelled to stay all night under guard. After sunrise, the brigands who watched them, went up the mountain, and the remainder of the party were free. Our two students passed through Djumas and on across the border to save themselves from detention by the Turkish authorities. The teachers, Bible women and Mr. Tsil returned to Bansko. It seems that this detention of all the party kept the Turkish government from getting any knowledge of even the presence of the brigands till about noon of the fourth day and gave those outlaws a chance of hurrying their captives to a place far distant from the scene of their capture. A Turk, captured just before this party was taken up the mountain and beaten to death before their eyes. Though I know nothing as to what direction the captives were taken, I think it most likely that they will be brought to Bulgaria.

Kruger Has Funds.

London, Sept. 25.—The story which has been widely published that President Kruger is destitute is officially denied by his friends. He lives simply in order that he may spend all his money for the Boer cause. He has ample funds.

The work was begun only ten days ago. Robert T. Lincoln recently expressed the wish that his father's remains be given permanent burial, where they would be safe from any attempted interference.

Norfolk, Va., Sept. 25.—Because she "vexed" him, Wm. Brown, aged 15, tried to kill his aged grandmother near Portsmouth last night, but the bullet from his pistol went wild and struck a negro near by. He then fled to the swamp, where he was captured and placed in jail.

Port Townsend, Wash., Sept. 25.—The Indians in Nome, Alaska, are threatened with starvation. They have spent the proceeds of the sales of furs for liquor instead of laying in supplies and unless the government acts all will fall victims to starvation. Mrs. Frank Dunaway spent Tuesday night in Granville at the home of her father, William Lyle, and had not up until a late hour this afternoon seen or heard anything about her husband, who has been missing for over two weeks. It was reported to the Advocate by Mr. Green, the painter, on Tuesday that Dunaway was seen going to Granville on an electric car, but he has not yet been seen by Mrs. Dunaway.

Appleman before she married Doolin. She says Doolin is quite wealthy and asks alimony. Doolin was a divorced man when he married Mrs. Appleman and his alliance with her brought out a breach of promise suit with Miss Mary Heil, but the latter died before the case came to trial.

* September 26.

* Buffalo, Sept. 25.—The trial of Leon F. Czolgosz, who was found guilty of the murder of President McKinley by a supreme court jury, consumed eight hours and 26 minutes and covered a period of only two days. Practically all of this time was occupied by the prosecution in presenting a case so clear, so conclusive, that even had the prisoner entered the plea of insanity, it is doubtful if the jury would have returned a verdict different from the one rendered. The announcement made by the attorneys for Czolgosz that the eminent alienists summoned by the Erie County Bar association and by the district attorney to examine Czolgosz and to determine his exact mental condition had declared him to be perfectly sane, destroyed the only stage of a defense that Judges Lewis and Titus could have put together.

Justice White announced that he would pronounce sentence upon the defendant Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The prisoner was taken at once through the tunnel under Delaware avenue back to the jail. To all appearances he was in no way affected by the result of the trial.

After the testimony of eye-witnesses to the awful tragedy had been submitted, District Attorney Penney abruptly announced that the case of the prosecution was ended. Judge Lewis arose slowly and, addressing the court, said that the sudden close of the case against Czolgosz was a surprise to him and his colleague. They had no witness to call for the defense. He asked the court that he be allowed to address the jury at once. The court assented and the venerable judge began an address that will long be remembered by those who heard it.

THE GRIGGS STORE.

We are Inaugurating The New Cloak Season this week

Every style of Cloak is interesting at this time. It shows the possibilities of the season and gives you the option from many kinds. Long Coats mark the leading style and you can have a choice of six different lengths. Wouldn't you like to see them? Our new Cloak Department is larger, and as one lady said this week, "We can always have a larger variety to select from at your store than elsewhere."

Misses and Childrens Coats also on exhibition.

DEATH

District Attorney Penney replied for the state. His summing up of the case was brief and devoid of sensationalism. Supreme Justice White, in his charge to the jury, said among other things that if the members were satisfied from the evidence that at the time of the committal of the assault the defendant was laboring under a defect of reason, as not to know the quality of the act or that it was wrong, he was not responsible and the jury must acquit. The jury was out about half an hour.

Relatives Arrive.

Paul Czolgosz, the father; Waldeck, brother, and Victoria, a sister of the president's assassin, arrived here from Cleveland. Superintendent Bull and Assistant Superintendent Cusack took charge of them and sent them to police headquarters with Detectives Solomon and Geary. Superintendent Bull stated that if they wanted to see Czolgosz permission would probably be granted them to see him in the jail before the sentence of death is pronounced. The police officials denied the story that they came to Buffalo to make the murderer reveal the plot to kill the president.

Some years ago Paul Czolgosz owned a farm in Warrensville, O., a suburb of Cleveland. Three or four years ago the father sold it to four of his sons, Leon, Waldeck, Jacob and John, for $1,400, the murderer having a $250 interest in the farm. The sons ran the farm, but the father says that Leon would do no work, claiming all the time that he was ill. Last July Leon left home, saying that he was going west, and $70 was advanced him upon his interest in the farm. Shortly afterwards Waldeck, the oldest brother, received a letter from him in Fort Wayne, Ind. Nothing more was heard from Leon until August, when he wrote Waldeck asking that $10 be sent him at West Seneca, this county, in the name of Frank Snider. The brother sent it, and he now explains that he thought that Snider was the name under which his brother was working.

Great sorrow was expressed by the three because of the disgrace which Leon has brought upon the family. They claim that they know nothing about his anarchistic views; that they never knew of his reading anarchist papers, and that they were ignorant of his membership in any anarchist societies.

Alleged Circle of Anarchists.
Kansas City, Sept. 25.—In the arrest here of two Italians, Nicol Alessi and Francesco Governale, charged with counterfeiting, secret service officers have discovered what appears to be a circle of anarchists believed to be identified with Antonio Maggio, now under arrest in New Mexico for predicting the death of President McKinley. At the Italian quarters were found a quantity of letters and printed matter, in Italian, bearing Maggio's name. The men were bound over on the counterfeiting charge and the letters forwarded to Chief Wilkie of the secret service at Washington for investigation.

Lynching and Anarchy.
Tuskegee, Ala., Sept. 25.—Booker T. Washington of the Tuskegee normal and industrial institute has given out a statement in reference to the assassination of President McKinley, in which he says: "In all sincerity, I want to ask, is Czolgosz alone guilty? Has not the entire nation had a part in this greatest crime of the century? What is anarchy but a defiance of law, and has not the nation reaped what it has been sowing? According to records 2,516 persons have been lynched in the United States during the past 16 years. There have been engaged in this anarchy of lynching nearly 125,800 persons."

Ordered to Leave Town.

Spring Valley, Ills., Sept. 25.—The editor and owner of the anarchist paper L'Aurore, John Cincubela, was notified to leave town and remove his printing plant immediately. The government has made no move toward excluding it from the mails. Large bundles of L'Aurore go to Paterson, N. J., and to Islip, Mich., and the paper has a large circulation in Spring Valley, Ladd, Peru and Lassaie. Notwithstanding the notification presented him by the secretary of the citizens' mass meeting, Cincubela is now preparing the next issue of his paper for the press.

Anarchy Discussed.

Copenhagen, Sept. 25.—The anarchist question was discussed by Count Lamsdorff and Count Von Buelow at Dantzic and by M. Deicasse and Count Lamsdorff in France. They differed as to many points but agreed that the anarchist press must be suppressed and that concerted action must be taken by all civilized countries. The results of their discussions may be expected in the near future.

TO KILL M'KINLEY.

Suspect Claims He Was One of Three Persons Who Conspired.

St. Louis, Sept. 25.—Edward Saffig, arrested here Monday charged with petit larceny, is being held by the police. To Chief of Detectives Desmond he confessed that he was one of three men who conspired to assassinate President McKinley at Buffalo Sept. 6, and that it was he who tied around Czolgosz's hand the handkerchief that concealed the weapon with which Czolgosz shot the president. In his confession Saffig implicated Frank Harrigan of Philadelphia in the plot. Saffig says that the Monday previous to the assassination of President McKinley, Harrigan met him and Emma Goldman in the Lucheloh saloon in this city and arranged the details of the murder.

A waiter named Thomas Pettit, who is employed where Saffig boarded, says Saffig was in St. Louis on the day President McKinley was shot and the two read bulletins of the tragedy in front of newspaper offices. He said that Saffig was a seeker after notoriety. Saffig was confronted with Pettit. Despite Pettit's positive statement to the contrary, Saffig said he was in Buffalo on the day in question. Saffig said that he first met Czolgosz in Chicago, where he was known as Nieman. He had a letter of introduction from Harrigan, who, Saffig said, was a lawyer living at 327 West Twenty-sixth street, New York city. Saffig said he himself once lived in New York at 408 West Twenty-sixth street. The prisoner would not tell where or when he met Czolgosz in Chicago. Asked if he knew Emma Goldman, Saffig said he had never met her, but had heard her speak in Paterson, N. J. in June, 1895, and elsewhere. As far as he knew, the prisoner said, he was not known to the Goldman woman.

Saffig, the police say, served a term in the workhouse for stealing a book, and secured his release in August. Two days later he was taken from Union station to the city hospital suffering from internal injuries received in a fall from a Baltimore and Ohio train at Carlisle, Ills.

BRICKS WITHOUT STRAW.

More than a thousand years ago—
Shadows of time, how the days go by—
There was a man I used to know—
Max soon strange, but you'll see it's so
After I tell you the reason why—
Worked in a brickyard, same as you
And all of us have to do,
Mixed in the trouble and worry and strife,
The mirth and the other things of life.
Sifted in the hopes and the pains and joys,
Kneaded the mud with his sweat and his tears,
Flattest mass that ever you saw.
"Poor brick!" said the man, "but I have no straw!"

Up to his knees in the mire pit,
A pigmy's way, but a giant's grit;
His back was a chain of throbbing aches,
Lifting the mold with its golden cakes;
Throes only as hinges of steel,
Knees so lame he could hardly kneel;
And so still it would clog a plow
And couldn't be stirred with a wheel below,
Such as short as the days were long,
Nothing seemed right, but everything wrong
"That I can do," said the man; "but, please,
You can't make brick when you have no straw!"

Teachers pitiless lashed the man,
"Can't!" sobbed Weakness, but Courage cried,
"Can!"
"Don't!" said Despair, but Duty cried, "Do!"
"All right," said the man, "I'll worry her through!"
Can't do much, and I reckon you'll be
Brick won't be just what they ought to be;
Ain't much so good as I know I could make
If I just had straw; but you'll have to take
The best I can do for the work's own sake."

He finished his tale of brick and then
Went home to rest, and the sons of men
Looked on his perfect work and saw
He'd made the brick, but he put in straw
—Robert J. Burdette.

Anecdote of Sims Reeves.

An operative singer tells the following little known anecdote relating to the late Mr. Sims Reeves: About the middle of the sixties, while the eminent tenor was living in a hotel of a town on the south coast, he made a wager with another guest that he would black his face, proceed to the beach and sing a few of the songs which had made him famous without recognition. Sims Reeves duly disguised himself and resorted to a sparse audience "Tom Bowling," "My Pretty Jane," etc.; but, strange to say, he did not receive much in the way of appreciation or financial tributes from the beach loungers. That in hand the tenor approached an elderly gentleman who was standing apart and requested a trifling honorarium, but the stranger had recognized the great vocalist despite his clown hued skin, and he replied with decision: "Not this time, Mr. Sims Reeves! My wife is mad about your performance, and you have cost me many a guinea. You have just treated me to the luxury of listening to you without any return expense being attached."

"Contoural you," said Reeves, "you have made me lose my bet! Come to my hotel and have a drink!"
The stranger accepted the hospitable invitation.

ONE DAY'S TEACHING

Jack had a toothache and asked me to take his place at school. I consented and proceeded to the schoolhouse. No one was there but a quiet little girl sweeping up kindling chips.

"Your regular teacher will be unable to be with you today, miss, but I will fill his place with what ability I can command. What's your name?"

"I do not think I ever saw any one look quite so surprised as that girl did then. However, I saw nothing very strange in the matter and repeated:

"What's your name? I am to teach you today."

"Alice Stanley."

"How old are you, Alice?"

"Eighteen."

"Where?" thought I to myself. "She doesn't look fourteen."

The last bell rang, and Alice Stanley came in. I quietly remarked: "I am to take the place of your teacher today. Will some one start a song?"

Calling a class, Peter Thompson failed to come forward. I urged him to no avail.

I took hold of Peter's shoulder. If commands are not obeyed, use force. That's my motto. Immediately Peter gave such a yell as I never heard from mortal lungs. I sprang back as if I had touched off a mine. Peter did not desert, but to the first burst succeeded an avalanche of blubbering that came down like the cataract of Lodore. I retreated in dismay, and Peter halted with strange suddenness. He sulked behind his apron, however, till recess.

I took the reader and pointed to the first letter of the alphabet.

"What is the name of that letter?" I inquired.

They gazed at me in stupid amazement.

"You surely know what that letter is. Tell me at once," said I severely.

Mentions of rain in one or two eyes. Alice Stanley's hand goes up.

"Question, Alice?"

"Please, sir, teacher uses the word method."

The word method? What might that be? My course in college so far contained no information on that point. Perhaps it was in the scientific course. To cover my confusion I looked at my watch. It was far past recess time, and I rang the bell.

I measured off just five minutes for the recess. Time was precious if the morning programme was to be completed. Promptly at the expiration of the time I rang the bell, and as the astonished company hustled back to their seats I noticed Peter Thompson's place vacant.

"Where is Peter?"

"He went home cryin'."

"Said he'd tell his ma."

"Said he warn't goin' to no old school," volunteered a dozen voices. I summoned "B geography." This was a class of intermediate grade, whose lesson for the day was Africa.

Right here the door opened wide, and in it stood a little, bit of a woman, with a sunbonnet on her head and a mop in her hand and the cloth frozen stiff. She panted, with one hand on her heart.

"Where's the schoolmarm?"

"He could not be here today. I take his place. Is there anything I can do for you, ma'am? May I ask your name?"

"I'm Missus Thompson. My poor little boy just come home a-cryin' as if his little heart would break, an' I'd just like to know who's been misusin' of him. I'd put the law on 'em, I would! Pretty goin' on in a schoolhouse, I must say! Oh, there you are, Miss Stanley! Why ain't you in your proper place?"

"Mrs. Thompson, may I see you a moment in the lobby?" asked Miss Stanley, while I stood entirely dumfounded.

"S'pose you may."

While they went out I got my hat and overcoat and put them on. My brain was in a whirl. That little girl! But, after all, there was a certain air of maturity about her. And that Dekeleia and the giggling! I was a fool. As I got into the lobby—how I know not—Mrs. Thompson was departing with a broad grin on her face. Miss Stanley held out her hand, with several roguish dimples playing hide and seek about her cheeks.

"Pardon me. I thought at first some one was trying to play a trick on me through you, but I fear now I have been the trickster. I was quite tired and discouraged this morning. If you were a teacher—pardon me for imagining that you are not—you would know how glad I was to rest and hear some one else teach and learn how."

This last was added slyly.

When she had directed me across the fields, I lifted my hat and walked off. As Miss Stanley entered the schoolroom I heard tumultuous clapping and cheering.

I plunged fiercely on, reviewing the morning's experience with burning cheeks whose fires were none the cooler by the time I reached my cousin's school, which also, I noticed, was fronted with a big elm.

As I went nearer the unmistakable buzz of a school in session greeted my ears. Wonderingly I rapped at the door. It opened, and, lo, Jack!

"How's your tooth?" savagely said I. "Might as well own up. It was all a trick. I came out here and hid. I was going to hear you teach all the morning and then disclose myself. The boys were in the secret, but when you didn't come the joke was on me. Where have you been?"

But that I never told.

He—Yes, very. An ancestor of hers was beheaded in the tower during the reign of Edward IV.

PUNISHMENT

For Crime Should Not be for Vengeance, but Only for Righteous Judgment.

Editor Advocate:—Amid the sorrows that as felt by all parties and all classes of the American people over the assassination of President McKinley it is certainly a gratifying reflection that we are all of one mind in our condemnation of the assassin's crime and our appreciation of the statesmanship and virtues of the illustrious dead.

It is the voice of the whole people concerning this man that he hath been

So clear in his great office, that his virtues

Will plead like angels, trumpeted-tongued, against

The deep damnation of his taking off."

Among the many lessons of McKinley's life, let us count it among the most important, that the exercise of the highest power and authority is not inconsistent with uniform kindness and courtesy and a proper respect for the humblest and lowest of our fellow-men. May we not learn from the example of William McKinley as well as from that of Abraham Lincoln, that all power should be exercised in meekness and gentleness, and that no lust of power should find place or lodgment in our breasts?

Heaven speed the day when all parents and teachers and all keepers of prisons and public officials of every grade shall learn this lesson. Nay, let us all learn the lesson of Holy Writ that he who would be the greatest of all must be the friend of all and the servant of all!

Is it not also a gratifying reflection that notwithstanding the righteous indignation of all the people they are satisfied to let the law take its due course, only asking that its prescribed penalty shall fall upon the assassin's head? It is not vengeance that we desire, but righteous judgment!

That some legislation is demanded for the suppression of anarchy seems to be generally recognized, but all such legislation should be conceived in righteousness and should be framed in accordance with the principles of liberty which lie at the foundation of our government. Above all, while we are enacting such laws as we may deem necessary for our protection, let us not forget to cherish the moral and spiritual forces which are the light of our life and the rock of our salvation. For where there is no VISION the people perish.

TIRED OR FEEBLE WOMEN

[Find Peruna to be an Unfailing and Prompt Remedy.]

Miss Mary Goerbing, of Medford, Wis., speaks in glowing praise of Peruna as a cathartic tonic and nerve restorer. She says:

"I take great pleasure in acknowledging the curative powers of Peruna. As a nerve tonic, a gentle stimulator to a sluggish system, as an appetizer and restorer of lost strength and vitality of worn-out women, it is very superior."

"I find it is splendid as a preventative for catching cold, and whenever I feel used up I take a dose or two and it never fails to relieve me."

Tired Women.

Depression of the nervous system during the heat of summer months is a fertile source of blood impurities. That tired feeling, which is the natural result of the depressing effect of warm weather, quickly disappears when Peruna is taken.

Thousands are daily testifying to its priceless benefit. General lassitude, dull, heavy sensations, continued tired feelings, with irregular appetite and sometimes loss of sleep. Peruna meets every indication and proves itself to be perfectly adapted to all their varied peculiarities. Peruna invigorates the system, rejuvenates the feelings, restores the normal appetite and produces regular sleep.

Roxa Tyler, vice president of the Illinois Woman's Alliance, speaks in high praise of Peruna to restore tired nerves and weak body. In a letter written to Dr. Hartman, from 910 East Sixtieth street, Chicago, Ill., she says the following:

"During the past year I gradually lost flesh and strength until I was unable to perform my work properly. I tried different remedies, and finally Peruna was suggested to me. It gave me new life and strength. I cannot speak too highly of it."

Mrs. G. Briggs, Treasurer and Conductor William Down's Corps No. 43, Woman's Relief Corps, writes the following letter to Dr. Hartman from 2419 Central avenue, Minneapolis, Minn.:

"A few months ago my health seemed to break down all at once. I had worked hard, too hard, for nearly six weeks, and nature simply refused to sustain me any longer. I lost my appetite, my sleep was fitful and I found no relief from the prescriptions of my physician. Several of the members of our Order told me of the wonderful help they had received from Peruna and advised me to try it. I sent for it and within a week after starting to use it a marked change for the better was felt; before finishing the second bottle I was completely restored."

As a tonic and nerve invigorator it has no equal. It builds up the nerves and gives strength to the circulation. No feeble woman should be without Peruna.

"Health and Beauty," a book written especially for women by Dr. Hartman, contains much invaluable advice to ailing women, sent free by addressing The Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, O.

AMUSEMENTS.

"Way Down East," possibly the most successful of modern dramas because it has attracted wide attention, not only in the theatrical world but from a class of people who as a rule are not disposed to look with favor upon the stage, is soon to have a production here. It is announced at the Auditorium for next Saturday matinee and night, September 28. This play from the pen of Lottie Blair Parker, aided by the deft elaboration of Mr. Joseph R. O'Brien, has gone far toward elevating the tone of the stage. First produced under the direction of Mr. William A. Brady, it remained for an entire season at the Manhattan Theatre, New York, and then again at the Academy of Music for 427 representations. It has been visited by hundreds of clergymen, who have not hesitated to chronicle the delight it afforded them in letters of the highest commendation. The play will be given here with a great cast, superb scenery and mountings, all the mechanical effects, and appurtenances so noticeable in the metropolitan production. "Way Down East" is a strong presentation of moral truth, is a pure sweet story, full of homely humor, so strongly characteristic of New England life. It is a safe prediction to state that this play will be sure to repeat the success here that has chronicled its presentation elsewhere.

The Keystone Dramatic company promises to open its engagement at the Auditorium next week, with one of the strongest plays in the repertoire, and it will be presented in its entirety, which means that some of the most beautiful stage settings will be shown; the company includes Miss Gertrude Shorman and Mr. Lawrence H. McGill, artists who are more than well-known, and who invariably become local favorites wherever they appear. They are surrounded by a strong company of well known people. Among the plays to be presented during their engagement in our city are several well known New York successes. This, together with the remarkable staging given by this organization, is enough to create more than passing notice. They are the very best plays ever given at popular prices. "Charity Bess" will be the opening play. Several new and novel vaudeville features will be presented at each performance.

Under Elks' Auspices.

Newark theatre-goers will have an opportunity on October 29 of enjoying a rare treat. The Newark Elks have in years past given amateur minstrels, which have been invariably successful. This year however, they decided to give the public the best there is in the minstrel line, and to this end they have booked the famous Primrose & Dockstader minstrels now playing at the "Walnut" in Cincinnati.

Messrs. Primrose & Dockstader have by their past, proved to theatre-goers that minstrelsy is a choice form of entertainment, and is equal and in some respects superior to the legitimate drama of today, as its pure and wholesome comedy, its vocal excellence and its various entertaining specialties go to make up an entertainment which can be attended by young and old, never at any time going beyond the pure and wholesome. The scenic and lighting effects are said to be ahead of anything ever before attempted in this line, the costumes are new and up to date, the olio contains many new and unique novelties, among them being Claudius and Corbin, banjoists; Zeno, Carl and Zeno, acrobats, who are the acknowledged leaders in their line; Lew Dockstader, in a new and original act; George Primrose, in an original and most effective act, entitled "The Sunny South," which has been a pronounced success from the start, containing all the latest scenic and lighting effects known to the stage, evolving a series of beautiful pictures of the South; Ollie Young and Brother, marvelous hoop rollers.

There is sensation of weight or distress in the stomach. Gastritis is caused by some irritant acting on the mucous membrane of the stomach, the irritant is often formed in the stomach by the fermentation of indigestible food. Gastritis will never develop if you take regularly Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, the guaranteed cure for indigestion, constipation and all diseases arising from stomach troubles. PATASKALA MAN

With Norris Left Hats and Collars at Barnesville—Riot Stage Nearly Reached in an Attack.

A message from Barnesville, Ohio, tells of the unpleasant experience there Friday night of Neil Fravel of this county, and J. T. Norris of Springfield as follows:

J. T. Norris of Springfield and Neil Fravel of Pataskala, working for the Anti-Saloon League, were tonight handed by saloon men here Tuesday evening. Their identity was disclosed when James McAndrews and John Depe were arraigned before May 1 White on the charge of Sunday liquor selling upon evidence furnished by them. Each saloon keeper was fined $100 and costs. When Norris and Fravel reached the depot in the evening under police protection a number of saloon men attacked them. During the fight, which almost reached the riot stage, Special Officer Ned Parsons attempted to draw his gun and was knocked down. Marshal Fogie lost his mace. The two detectives got aboard the train minus their hats and collars.

Asthma Instantly Relieved

Dr. R. Schiffmann Astounds the Public With the Success of His Treatment.

Residents of this place were astonished by notifications in these columns that the celebrated physician, Dr. Rudolph Schiffmann, would make public test of his remedy in this city on Sept. 19th. He invited every man, woman and child suffering with Asthma to call at Hall's Drug Store and obtain, absolutely free, a trial box of his medicine. Dr. Schiffmann adopted this novel way of introducing his treatment, believing that a free personal test would be the best and only way to overcome the prejudice and scepticism of thousands of asthmatics who had given up in despair after going through the whole range of so-called cures. He has in this manner proved the efficacy of his remedy, and without asking the public to spend a penny. Dr. Schiffmann hopes that every sufferer in this town obtained one of his free samples. He fears, however, that there were some few who did not, before they were all given out. In order to give a fair opportunity to those who have not yet used the remedy, and also as a guarantee of good faith he has now requested this paper to announce that he has arranged with the above druggist to refund the money to any person who purchases of him either a 50c. or $1.00 package of Schiffmann's Asthma Cure between now and Oct. 25th, and finds that it does not do exactly as is claimed for it; the only condition being that they return not less than three-fourths of the package to him. Dr. Schiffmann claims that in every case of true asthma his remedy will give immediate relief—usually within fifteen seconds; always within as many minutes. It has positively permanently cured thousands of cases which were considered incurable.

WAS WANTED FOR A HEINOUS CRIME.

Foully Slew a Prominent Young Woman Who Declined His Attention. Was an Instructor in a School of Mines and Metallurgy—A Highly Sensational Affair.

Rolla, Mo., Sept. 25.—Surrounded in a barn but a few blocks from the scene of his crime, Professor J. S. Crosswell, who Monday night murdered his sweetheart, Miss Mollie Powell, a prominent young woman of this city, at midnight sent a bullet through his own heart to prevent being lynched by an angry posse. Ever since the tragedy at the Powell home Monday evening Crosswell had been hiding from a large posse of citizens and college students that ransacked buildings and searched almost every spot in the city. Crosswell was located in a barn near the center of the town, where he had been in hiding probably ever since his flight from the Powell home. When discovered he ran to another barn near by, and here the posse bayed him. Just as the attack was to be made the report of a pistol was heard inside the building, and when the pursuers broke in they found the murderer prone upon the floor. A bullet had pierced his heart and death was instantaneous.

Crosswell was an instructor at the school of mines and metallurgy, a graduate of the Boston Institute of Technology, and entered into the employment of the Rolla institution as an instructor in special work and drawing. All of last year he paid devoted attention to Miss Mollie Powell, daughter of a newspaper editor. He was a constant caller at the home of the young lady and was treated almost like a member of the family. Crosswell was desperately in love with Miss Powell and begged her to marry him, but she always turned a deaf ear to him and told him she did not love him and could not marry him; that she was engaged to another. Monday was Miss Powell's nineteenth birthday and her mother gave a birthday dinner. While alone in the parlor with Miss Powell, Crosswell shot her dead.

Mission to Roosevelt. The Hague, Sept. 25.—The announcement made in The Star of Brussels that Mr. Kruger has decided to send a special mission to President Roosevelt is reported to be incorrect. It appears that such a project had been in contemplation, but the idea is not likely to be carried out owing to the great expense incidental to it and the old difficulty of securing a suitable representative. The expenses incurred since Mr. Kruger came to Europe have reduced the Transvaal funds to a small sum. In fact some of the Boers here are even destitute, and all of them agree Mr. Kruger has scarcely enough for himself. It is not believed that he could go to Washington, as since the death of Mrs. Kruger he has not been the vigorous man of quick decision which he was formerly. The course probably to be adopted will be that Montague White will be instructed to approach the United States, and Mr. Kruger and the others will take no action pending the result of Mr. White's endeavor.

Anthracite Situation. New York, Sept. 25.—Recognition for trade-unionism was the principal subject of discussion at a conference held between Frederick D. Underwood, president of the Erie railroad, and John Mitchell, president of the United Mine Workers; T. D. Nichols, president of district No. 1; Joseph Fahey of district No. 11, and Thomas Duffy of district No. 9. The conference continued for two hours. It is expected that it will be resumed. Interpretations of certain passages on an agreement entered into last March between them and their employers were asked by the miners. All the persons interested in the conference declined to make any statement for publication.

Roosevelt to Attend. New Haven, Sept. 25.—President Roosevelt has written to the Yale bi-centennial committee that he will attend the celebration, which begins Oct. 19, and it is expected that a number of cabinet officers who accepted invitation before the death of President McKinley will accompany him. Another guest whose formal acceptance has been received is Admiral Sampson. It is unofficially stated that both President Roosevelt and Admiral Sampson will receive the degree of doctor of laws from Yale at the same time of the bi-centennial.

Sampson and Inquiry Court. New York, Sept. 25.—Rear Admiral Sampson, questioned at Fort Hamilton, where he is the guest of Lieutenant Scott, his son-in-law, said that he did not know whether he would be a witness at the Schley investigation, but would go if summoned. As to his own health the admiral said it was much improved. Lieutenant Scott, when asked as to the duration of the admiral's stay at the fort, said that it was for an indefinite period.

Automobile Accident. The Hague, Sept. 25.—During military maneuvers near Valkenburg, an automobile accident occurred in which Captain Baron von Asbeck of the Dutch army fractured his skull, and Colonel von Siegler, the German military attaché, and the Belgian attaché were so seriously hurt that it is feared they will not recover. The Russian and Norwegian attaches were also injured.

ADMITS A SHORTAGE

Popular Young Merchant Quits His Home Town.

HE FORMERLY HELD PUBLIC OFFICE.

Was President of the Western Baseball Association and It Is Believed He May Have Used Its Funds, Also Money Belonging to the County—A Hale Fellow Well Met.

Fort Wayne, Ind., Sept. 25.—A few weeks ago the gentle furnishing firm of William Meyer & Brothers was forced into voluntary bankruptcy. William Meyer, Jr., was at that time auditor of Allen county and also president of the Western Baseball association. Relatives had been heavy endorsers at the banks to aid in making two campaigns for political office and the bankruptcy proceedings shocked his creditors and endorsers at the bank. In order to protect himself it is believed he may have used baseball association funds and also funds belonging to the county. Two weeks ago his bondsmen became worried and called Meyer to task. To his bondsmen, in the presence of County Commissioners Orr, Handy and Schnitzer, he confessed to a shortage of $2,486. Meyer was forced out of office and given $50 a month to remain away until Crane went over the books. Commissioner Orr stated that the shortage will reach $4,600, and the bondsmen will be held to account. Before the county shortage had been established Umpires Arlie Latham, Joe Hornung and Tony Mullane reached Fort Wayne and demanded about $300 in back salary. It is alleged they were held off until Meyer left the city on a Nickel Plate train, presumably for Chicago. He has not been seen since. Meyer's shortage, it is said, may reach $40,000. He was a popular fellow, with a host of friends.

REBELLION IN COLOMBIA.

It Cost $200,000,000 and 45,000 Lives.

Washington, Sept. 25.—Mail advices confirm the reports of the defeat of General Marin, the revolutionary leader, who has been operating in the department of Tolima. General Marin himself escaped. Legation officials here say that Colombia has no intention of taking action. Mr. Hocan, the secretary of the Colombian legation, says the rebellion in Colombia has cost the government upwards of $200,000,000 and the sacrifice of 45,000 lives, all of whom were Colombians except perhaps 500 of the Venezuelan auxiliaries of the revolutionists.

Bank Officers Indicted.

Omaha, Sept. 25.—A perusal of the indictment against Charles T. Officer, the Council Bluffs banker, shows the evidence upon which the grand jury based its action. Charles E. Waters, the expert who examined the books, testified before the grand jury that $14,000 of the nominal cash assets was represented by slips counted as cash on the books; that Charles T. Officer signed the firm's name to drafts and other bank paper and received and handled the cash. Mr. Waters also testified that he found certain drafts drawn a year or more before the bank was closed in favor of Thomas Officer, and which were not cashed until after his death, and was then passed to the credit of the Thomas Officer estate, when it appeared from the books they equitably belonged to the firm.

Republican Clubs.

Scranton, Pa., Sept. 25.—Delegates and visitors to the number of 1,000, representing 100 or more organizations allied with the State League of Republican Clubs, are attending the league's fourteenth annual convention here. At the armory an assemblage of 7,000 listened to addresses by Senator Thurston, Senator Penrose, State President Moore and others. Senator Thurston pronounced a masterful eulogy on the martyred president in his address on "McKinley: A Type of Republicanism." He scathingly arraigned the abuse of liberty of free speech, in which anarchical deeds are invited, and also declared that there should be legislation to prevent that liberty from being turned into license.

Express Trains Collide.

New York, Sept. 25.—In a head-on collision between a Central Railroad of New Jersey passenger train and a Philadelphia and Reading passenger train near Somerville, N.J., three persons were seriously hurt and several others slightly injured. The seriously hurt are H. H. Jalette of Philadelphia, skull probably fractured; the Rev. S. Dickson of the American Tract society; Frank Marion, fireman of the Central train, internal injuries and suffering from steam inhalation. The three are at the Somerville hospital. The accident is said to have been caused by the fact that the Central is making changes in the roadbed and the Reading engineer was not familiar with these and the special signals which had been set.

SUMMIT STATION.

Rev. Mr. Thomas preached his farewell sermon at this place last Sunday, before his departure for Conference, being a memorial sermon on the death of our late martyred President, William McKinley. The choir sang "Nearer, My God, to Thee," followed by the reading of the 90th Psalm. Mr. Thomas, in part, spoke of Mr. McKinley's life, commencing at the age of sixteen years, when he gave his heart to God, and his name to the church and ever since that time to the time of his death had lived a Christian life. At the early age of seventeen years he took up arms in defence of his country, and he was deserving of the promotions he received. All the success in this world that he achieved was due to the teaching of God's word, which he ever held sacred. When near unto death he repeated the Lord's prayer, and died as he had lived, with malice towards none and charity for all. The Reverend gentleman went on to say that the finest eulogy that had been passed on the death of the late President was written by his political opponent, Hon. William J. Bryan. The services closed with the singing of "America."

All the business houses of the village were closed on Thursday from 12 m. to 4 p. m., during the funeral of President McKinley at Canton.

MRS. STEWART'S FUNERAL.

The funeral of Mrs. Eleanor Stewart, who died on Sunday, took place on Tuesday afternoon at one o'clock from her late residence one mile north of Newark. The services were conducted by Rev. T. M. Higginbotham, pastor of the Plymouth Congregational church of this city, of which the deceased was a devoted member, and was largely attended, as Mr. Stewart was unusually beloved and respected for her many excellent traits of character. The interment was made in Cedar Hill cemetery. The pall bearers were all nephews of the deceased.

FRANK M. SMITH

Would Not be Surprised to See Kilbourne Carry Licking by 2000.
Miller a Winner.

(Cincinnati Enquirer.)
Frank M. Smith, Newark, Ohio, Secretary of the Union Association of Retail Lumber Dealers, is at the Hotel Honing.

"The last two years have been the best the country has ever known in the lumber trade," said Mr. Smith, "and in some localities there has been more building this year than last. Yes, I am a Republican, but will frankly say that Colonel Kilbourne is very strong in our county, Licking, and I would not be surprised to see him carry it by 2000. The Democrats will elect their county ticket, including the candidate for Legislature. There is also a strong likelihood of the Democrats electing their candidate for State Senator, Wm. E. Miller, who is a tremendous mixer. The district is composed of the counties of Licking, Perry, Delaware and Muskingum. Miller will go out of Licking with probably 1600 majority, and he is very strong in Muskingum. Judge Overturf is the Republican nominee again. He was defeated four years ago by less than 300."

FRIGHTENED

At an Engine and Threw Mr. Keller Out—He and Mrs. Keller Were Both Hurt.

Tuesday afternoon, shortly before one o'clock, as Mr. and Mrs. Charles Keller were riding to the funeral of Mrs. Eleanor Stewart, they were the victims of a peculiar accident that might have been attended with fatal results. Just before reaching the railroad crossing north of Newark, a B. & O. helper engine that had been pushing a freight train up the grade, came backing down. Just as they were passing Mr. Keller's buggy, the engine reversed, making a loud noise. This frightened the horse, which cramped the wheels and ran against a fence. Mr. Keller was thrown out of the vehicle to the ground with great force, and Mrs. Keller was caught in the overturned buggy. If the horse had continued to run Mr. Keller would probably have been killed. As it was, she sustained a badly sprained wrist and Mr. Keller has a severe contusion on the head. It was a narrow escape all around.

BOK'S ADVICE ON MARRIAGE.

A young man recently wrote to the editor of the Ladies' Home Journal asking: "What have you to say, squarely and fairly, to a young man who is about to marry?" In the October Journal Mr. Bok uses a page for his answer. Its salient points are these: that a man should make the woman of his choice his chum, as well as his wife; that he should show her the highest consideration as well as love her; that he should remember that he owes his wife to her mother, and treat his mother-in-law with respect, at least; that he should keep his wife informed as to his income; that he should give her a regular allowance; and that he should have his life insured in her favor. And above all, that when a young man marries he must remember that he leaves a world of self and enters into a world of another and self.

A mistake was made in the announcement of the death of Mrs. Prout, mother of William L. Prout of this city. Mrs. Prout died in Circleville instead of Chillicothe. The remains arrived here today and were taken to Alexandria for burial.

Buckeye Road's Answer.

The Columbus, Buckeye Lake and Newark Traction company has filed its answer to the injunction suit brought by the Norfolk & Western railroad company to prevent the electric line from going over its tracks east of the city, where Mound street would cross. The electric line does not dispute the steam company's allegations as to the number of trains which pass the spot over the Norfolk and Western nor its ownership of the property, but says two companies were not able to agree on compensation for the privilege of going over, and in their corporate capacity the electric line brought a condemnation suit in the probate court. It is set forth in the answer that the suit in the probate court involves all the issues and for that reason the injunction proceedings of the Norfolk & Western should be dissolved. A motion is also filed by the electric line to dissolve the temporary injunction for this reason.

In an affidavit filed by the electric company they declare that an overhead bridge or crossing at this point would be impractical. They further claim that the tracks are not near enough to the city to make a grade crossing dangerous to the public—Columbus Dispatch.

FLORIST MILLER.

Mr. George Miller, the popular young florist of this city, is branching out in his business. His business has increased so rapidly during the past year that he has found it necessary to enlarge his floral gardens, and to that end is now engaged in the construction of another large hot house one hundred feet in length, adjoining his other house in the East End. The Newark Plumbing Company will do the piping.
